He possesses amazing muscular power, a remarkable cool temper, and has proved to be very docile and sublimative. All who are curious to examine the noblest specimen of the heavy draught horse ever exhibited in America, of his age, are invited to call. For further particulars as to pedigree, &c., see handbills.

ed a paragraph in a letter from Harris which stated that a State Senator had accidently opened a letter intended for another Senator, inclosing a hundred bank note in payment for the vote of a person to whom it was addressed. It to be pretty well understood who that person is, and he is just such a person as sell himself for a hundred dollars, a doubt has often sold himself in the way before. Indeed the corruption even in the Legislature, was no secret. I openly talked about, as a matter of fact by the members, some of whom offered votes for sale at whatever they could get for them—even as low as five dollars. Some of the interior and back members said to be the most unprincipled, came to Harrisburg on a speculation to make all the money they could, and no more regarded their oath and the part that they were daily committing, than transaction was one of the most ordinary kind.

When we reflect, that the Commonwealth was in the hands of a sufficient number of these wretches, to control its legislation as a people can be readily seen. No wonder that speculative corporations created by the score; no wonder laws for the benefit of New-York, are sold;—no wonder that the city and county of Philadelphia, was attempted to be run out of about a hundred thousand dollars keeping in a year longer, the present of tax collectors, and the hungry, timorous, County Board.

But, in another view, the people do to suffer, by the miserable creatures too frequently sent to Harrisburg. A severe example would perhaps work a some reformation in this respect. I might make an effort then, to select intelligent, honest men, instead of permitting noisy, party backs, of no character to select themselves, as is now the case. Germania Telegraph.

Humiliating Confession.—The Washington Sentinel, a Democratic paper, good standing at the federal capital, conducted with marked ability and independence, says: "There is no disguising the fact that the Democratic party, powerful and triumphant as it was twelve months ago, is now supine, and indifferent, and dispirited. There is no disguising the fact that the elements of opposition have been increasing every day. A universal distrust has grown up among the people, even among the truest and sternest Democrats, believe that they have been duped, deceived, and cheated, and that high places in the government are surrounded by a low and contemptible crew, that come from higher sources every expression of honesty and disinterestedness, and deride the pregnant hinges of the knee which thrive only upon fawning."—

Important to Tavern Keepers.—Sunday Liquor on Sunday Illegal.—Last week the Court of Quarter Sessions at Philadelphia, a case was tried for keeping a disorderly house. In the second count of the indictment the defendant was charged with selling liquor without license. The district attorney, who caused the indictment, took place on Sunday, and there was evidence of the officer on that day. Mr. District Attorney Reed took the ground that the license not cover sales of liquor made on Sunday. Judge Thompson charged the jury that the defendant's license did not give him the privilege of selling liquor on Sunday. The Supreme Court had so decided, and they believed liquor had been sold by the defendant on Sunday, he could be convicted on that count. Mr. District Attorney expressed his determination to carry out the principle of the law. This is one of the important decisions which has been given by the Court. It will tend to suppress the traffic in liquor on Sunday.

Assessment of Assessors.—As the School Directors, is invited to the following section of the new School Law takes effect immediately:

Section 35. That it shall be the duty of the several assessors to assign persons as they remove into that district between the last of August and the first of May in each year who may have been omitted from the assessment, and to return their names, the amount of State and County tax payable by each, to the Board of School Directors, who shall thereupon assess the amount of School tax payable by such persons which tax shall be collected as in the cases.

Defense of Polygamy.—A lady in a wife of one of the Mormon leaders, to her sister in New Hampshire a letter, defending polygamy by the example of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and the men mentioned in the Bible. She said her husband, who is a member of the Latter-day Saints, has seven other wives, and is a moderate number for a leader in faith, as Rigdon, the high priest of Mormonism, it is reported, has thirty. The children of these eight wives are twenty-five.

Four Days Later from Europe.

The steamer Atlantic arrived at N. York on Monday, with Liverpool dates to the 4th inst. The prices of cotton and flour had declined—flour 6d. and cotton an eighth. The following is the telegraphic summary of the remainder of the news:

The report that Odessa was bombarded on the 24th of April is authentic. The city was bombarded by the allied fleets for ten hours, and a large part of the city laid in ruins. Four gun fortresses were dismantled, and eight Russian and one Austrian merchant ships destroyed by fire in the harbor. Three British bombarding steamers were badly damaged. An attempt of the British to land eighteen hundred men failed. The bombardment commenced in the morning. Nine steamers of the allied fleets took a position before the forts that commanded the entrance of the harbor.

The English and French Admirals demanded the surrender of the Russian ships in the harbor. This being refused, they immediately commenced throwing bombs, rockets, &c. upon the forts and the city. The Prince Morosoff's palace was entirely destroyed.

The Russian fleet came out of Sebastopol during the bombardment and threatened the allied fleet, but without battle retired. The whole allied fleet left Odessa on the 26th to cruise off Sebastopol to prevent the egress of the Russian fleet.

The Russians have completely evacuated Lesser Wallachia. The Russian right wing now rests on the Alata, with their headquarters at Bucharest. Therefore the interest of the campaign again concentrates on the operations below Nicopolis.

The Turks have come out of Kalamat, and are occupying all the towns in the track of the Russians.

The Russians are besieging Silistria, and were expected to attack it about May 1st.

The allied troops remain idle.

The Greek insurgents had been defeated with immense loss.

France has ordered the Russian Consul to leave.

Napier's fleet is awaiting orders, and the French fleet blockading the Gulf of Finland and Bothnia. On the 21st Napier was with nineteen ships at Stockholm.

The Foreign News by the Atlantic.

The news from the Black Sea and the Danube is of stirring interest. The allied fleets of England and France have made an attack on Odessa and riddled the city.

The contest was not without loss on the part of the allies; three of the British steamers were badly damaged, and an attempt to land eighteen hundred men failed, the Russians having repulsed them. The contest, it appears, was kept up for ten hours, which shows that the resistance was formidable, and, so far, the allies have effected nothing, except the destruction of private property and the dismantling of several fortresses.

The attack will, doubtless, be renewed, and, most probably, with better success. Odessa is a seaport, on the northern coast of the Black Sea, and the emporium of Southern Russia. It is the entrepot of the commerce of the Russian dominions on the Black Sea. The bay, or roadstead, in front of the city, is extensive, the water deep and the anchorage good. The port which is artificial, being formed by two moles, is fitted to accommodate about two hundred ships. The city is defended by batteries, towards the sea, which have been greatly strengthened since war became imminent. On the east side is a citadel, commanding the town and port. The space comprising the city is bounded by a rampart. The city contains about 80,000 inhabitants. It has many fine buildings and a flourishing Lyceum. It has a great trade, exporting wheat and other productions of Southern Russia, and importing most of the foreign articles for home consumption. The total amount of the foreign trade of Odessa last year was $4,605,076 silver roubles, viz:—exports $2,777,717 silver roubles; imports, 9,827,360 silver roubles.

On the Danube the operations appear to be preparatory to a great battle between the Russians and the Turks. The accounts from that quarter are not so clear as they might be, as the correspondents of the English and French papers have a way of magnifying Turkish successes and covering up their defeats, till it is almost impossible to know the true state of affairs on the Danube. It is stated that the Russians are about to besiege Silistria, and that they have experienced one defeat before that fortress. If the Russians are before Silistria, then the report by previous arrivals, afterwards denied, that they had possession of Rassau and Kostenje, is likely to be true. At any rate, they are gradually working their way down towards the Balkan Mountains, the Turkish forces giving way before them. Silistria, Razackuck and Shumla are the only places of any importance which stand in their way. They appear, by withdrawing from Little Wallachia, to be concentrating their vast army of three hundred thousand men for a grand attack upon these places. Whether the Turks will really stand the hazard of a pitched battle is not certain. They appear to have no confidence in themselves. Vexat Pacha, the Turkish Ambassador, has received instruction from his government to declare to the French Emperor that "the military resources of Turkey having been stretched to the utmost limits, it was utterly impossible for the Turkish army to make any further resistance to the advance of the Russians, unless immediate and efficient assistance were afforded by the Allies." And he asked for speedy reinforcements to the amount of 200,000 men.

It is said that one of the most interesting departments of the Crystal Palace exhibition is that which is assigned to last articles picked up by the police. Among these there are about three hundred black-cambric handkerchiefs, some valued at $50. There are also about as many towels, a large stock of gloves, an extensive assortment of ladies' shoes and stockings, and some hundred articles of jewelry, pieces of which range as high as $100 in value.

Indignation meetings are being held all over Kentucky, in reference to the recent judicial outrage in the case of Matt. Ward, the murderer. The resolutions passed are similar to those we have already noticed. The most notable one of them is, that the State of Kentucky, in the case of the trials, at which one of the resorters adopted requests the jurors to leave the court.

News from China—Progress of the Revolution.

No material alteration has occurred in the position of the belligerent parties since our last accounts. The fact that the insurgents are everywhere able to hold their ground, would seem to argue that they command the sympathies of the population. Shanghai is still in possession of the T'iad or small sword society, although Saungu, the imperialist leader, has received a reinforcement of 5,000 men. His troops will not fight without money, and as it is stated that his means are completely exhausted, and that the imperial treasury is empty, we may soon expect to hear of them abandoning him altogether. The description given of the manner in which the siege is conducted reminds one forcibly of the modes of warfare pursued in the primitive ages.

The imperialists have been peppering away at the city for the last five months; but as they take care to fire out of range, and without the least intention to aim, they will, of course, carry on this childish game for an indefinite period. And yet it will hardly be believed that directly opposite Shanghai is a fort with two guns, one of which has been pronounced by our officers to be of sufficient calibre to reduce the city in a few days, if properly managed. These ping-wang, the leader of the rebels, is said to be now in possession of three-fourths of the Empire; and it is further stated, that the population of Canton and other southern districts, are only waiting for Peking to fall into his hands to declare their adhesion to him.

California.

The last news from California shows no sign of exhaustion in its arduous production, whilst in other departments its resources are steadily undergoing development. We learn from the San Francisco papers not only that from all the mines the most favorable accounts are received, but are also informed that marked attention is directed to agricultural pursuits throughout the State, and with the fullest success. The present growing wheat crop, it is said, will beyond question more than equal the consumptive wants of the State, as well as exceed the ability of the mills to manufacture it into flour. Over twenty mills, however, already exist in the State, and others are to be added in the Spring, so that this deficiency will soon be supplied. California, therefore, may now be regarded as independent of the Atlantic States for her supply of cereals. This may properly be considered an important step achieved by California towards her own sustenance, and as instantiating another epoch in the already extraordinary career of that State.

Interesting News from Havana.—A letter from Havana, in the New Orleans Picayune, states that there were sent to the United States, by the Isabel of 22d ult., a column of engineers, late an officer under the Military Secretary, and several officers of the army, for the purpose of watching the movements of the government at Washington, and of the filibusters of the South. They have double passports, as civilians and as military officers. The same writer adds:

A complete panic exists here. The foreign merchants are sending their families away; most of them, being Europeans, go to England and France, fearing some great impending evil. Four black regiments are being formed, and the interest of money has doubled and even trebled within thirty days. The government, in order to alleviate in some measure the distress, has created a State bank of discount, with $500,000 capital; but distrust is extending on every hand under the prostrate social ruin that menaces us. The number of Crovies who have gone and are preparing to go on apparent tours of pleasure to the United States and to Europe, was never a title of what it now is.

What adds to the panic is the menacing aspect of affairs with the United States on account of the Black Warrior affair, and the knowledge of the fact that the Captain General has a royal decree (written by Archbishop Claret, of St. Jago, and approved by the Supreme Court,) authorizing him to declare the immediate abolition of slavery on the declaration of war by the United States, and even on the issuing of letters of marque by it against Spain, if he should deem it proper to do so.

A London Millionaire.—Monsieur Francis Wey, a French writer of distinction, who passed several weeks in London during the Great Exhibition, has recently published in Paris his "impression" under the title of "The English at Home." On one occasion, while sitting in an omnibus, he formed acquaintances with a fellow passenger, from whom he derived many explanations of the strange things he saw. One of these was:

"I addressed to him a few words concerning a carriage which just then drove by. It was too fine to be elegant, and was drawn by two magnificent bay horses. On the box sat a coachman, and there was not a wrinkle in his white cravat, his snowy gloves were spotless. In the vehicle, on downy cushions, curiously lounged a man with a coat, his arms bare, his shoes turned up to the shoulders, an apron with the corners turned up serving him as a skirt; so the coachman looked like a gentleman driving a mechanic in his dress."

Mr. Wey asked his neighbor who and what was the strange looking occupant of the dashing carriage?

"The richest butcher in London," was the reply. "He is returning in his carriage from his slaughter house to his residence. His forefathers were in the business. His father left him a fortune of over two millions, and he cut of modernity follows. His profession, a very honorable old custom. This gentleman butcher possesses four millions."

Death from Overtasking the Intellect.—W. B. Micon, an eminent lawyer of New Orleans, died April 16th, from a disease of the brain, brought on by intellectual application. It made its first appearance in the loss of memory, and thence grew rapidly to a fatal termination, and finally terminated in death from exhaustion of the faculties of nature.

A woman named Adella O'Horchon has been arrested in St. Louis, Mo., and held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars, on the charge of violently assaulting a man in a public place. She has a number of children, and is supposed to be under thirty years of age. She is certainly a most dangerous woman.

The Nebraska Bill.

This measure of iniquity was to be consummated on Saturday last. On Monday last, Mr. Richardson made a motion to postpone the consideration of the Pacific Railroad, (which was the order of the day for Tuesday last,) until the 24th, and also one to close the Nebraska debate at 12 o'clock on Saturday last, and then take the vote thereon. Both motions prevailed by large majorities; and we suppose that, ere this, the Nebraska bill has passed the House, as its friends have no doubt of carrying it. What is to be the result of this high-handed and iniquitous measure, time only can tell. It will be a mill-stone around the neck of some of its advocates, we have not a doubt.

A State Convention, Democratic in character, has been called to meet at Harrisburg on the first of June, to take action on the proposed repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Bradford county has chosen delegates thereto, and adopted an address to the Democrats of the State, calling upon them to act vigorously in the impending crisis, that the true sentiments of Pennsylvania may be known.

Resolutions against the Nebraska bill passed the Legislature of Connecticut on Wednesday, by a decided vote—in the House of Representatives, 148 to 57; in the Senate, 16 to 1.

In the Senate of the U. States, on Monday, Mr. Cooper presented the memorial of Mr. Hanway, who was indicted and tried for treason arising out of the Christiana riots, setting forth that his health has become injured in consequence of his said indictment and trial, and he is utterly unable to pay the vast expense of his defense, and he prays to be indemnified to the amount of his witnesses, for say $3,000.

Wheeling Bridge Destroyed.

During the storm of Wednesday afternoon last, the suspension bridge over the Ohio, at Wheeling, was blown down, and now lies a complete wreck. The violence of the gale was such, that all the cables except two were broken and twisted to pieces, and the bridge turned bottom upwards. Fortunately no lives were lost.

The storm was terrific, and accompanied by thunder and lightning. Several houses were unroofed, and chimneys blown down.

It is said that a company of capitalists has been formed, with ex-Governor Johnson at their head, which will bid $11,000,000 for the Main Line of the Public Works. It is also stated that the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company will give $12,000,000.

We regret to learn that the Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, in consequence of ill health, has resigned his seat in the U. S. Senate, to take effect in June. It is rumored that the Governor of Massachusetts has tendered the seat to Mr. Choate.

Mr. Isaac Long, one of the most extensive farmers and most wealthy men of Washington county, Md., was found dead near his residence, in the Williamsport district, on Tuesday evening last. It is supposed that by some slip of his foot he fell over a fence and broke his neck. His loss is greatly regretted, as he was very much esteemed.

Have your smoked glass ready for the great Eclipse on next Friday afternoon.

Our Gaily's Lady's Book, for June, is our table, neat and interesting as usual. It has 8 full page plates, 1 line engraving, 1 colored Fashion Plate; 100 pages, 65 engravings, 65 contributions. Give your flags in his endeavors to please his patrons.

Danger of Fluid Lamps.—The newspapers are full of accounts of accidents from fluid lamps, and notwithstanding numerous warnings against filling up a lamp while burning, persons will persist in this dangerous practice.

A couple of highwaymen attempted to rob the editor of the Syracuse Republican last week. A rather preposterous undertaking, robbing an editor.

Hydrophobia.—During the late heavy frosts, a physician in one of the summered houses on the Connecticut, writes that he visited his patient in a boat, getting in at the chamber window, and hitching his boat to the bed-post.

Terrible Explosion and Loss of Life.—We learn from the Richmond Dispatch that on Monday a terrible explosion of "fire damp" occurred at the Black Heath Coal Pits in Chesterfield, Va., by which 16 men and 2 boys, employed in the mines, were killed. The following are the names of the persons in the mines when the explosion occurred:

Moore, Cyrie, Albert Branch, Thomas Tompkins, Leckel Jobbins, Robert Will, James, John Jones, Robert Crostwick, Henry East, William Palmer, John River, John Thurman, Henry Gentry, William Elliott, John Elliott, Samuel West, John Packer, Joseph Shaw, Jeremiah Kne, Thos. Brown, Joseph Rightshaw. Mr. Elliott was taken out alive, but terribly wounded.

Specimens of new state cent coin have just been issued at the U. S. Mint. They bear date 1854, and differ from the old coin in being of pure silver, somewhat thinner, and a trifle larger. The star, also, is surrounded by a raised rim, while in the space over III, on the opposite side, within the C, is a spray, and underneath a quiver of arrows.

Another Disaster at Sea.

On Wednesday last, the ship Carrituck arrived at New York, bringing the passengers and crew, (nearly 900) of the ship Black Hawk, lost at sea, on her voyage from Liverpool to New York. The latter vessel left Liverpool on the 4th of April, with a crew of 55 men and 539 passengers. She encountered a tremendous hurricane on the 17th, which rendered her a complete wreck. Fortunately the Carrituck arrived in time, and, together with several other vessels, took off the passengers and crew from the wrecked vessel.

County School Superintendent.—The evident design of the Legislature in changing the School Law so as to provide for the election of a County Superintendent, was to benefit the Schools by making such qualification necessary as would insure a suitable man being chosen. The office is not intended as a mere place, which shall afford to its holder a salary, but an office to be filled by a working man—one who has the skill, the ability, and the active industrious habits necessary to the important trust confided to him. It is highly desirable that the School Directors of the County exercise care in the selection of this officer.

Take Note.—A will was sustained, a few days ago, before the Supreme Court
